INTRODUCTION

AS part of M.com requirement research has prepared project on comparative financial statements on ROYAL OAK.

Comparative financial statement

Comparative financial statements are the complete set of financial statements that entity issues, reliving information for more than one accounting period statements, that may be included in packages are:

- The income statements (showing results for multiple periods).
- The balance sheet (Showing the financial position of the entity as of more than one balance sheet dates).
- The statements of cash flows (Showing the cash flows for more than one periods)

The income statement provides an overview of a company revenues, expenses and earnings for physical year

STATEMENT OF PROBLEM:

This corporation mainly used ratio analysis approaches, which is the issue. I am therefore focusing on comparative financial statement analysis and trend analysis. Comparative profit and loss statements and balance sheets can be used to analyse the company's financial standing.

NEED FOR THE STUDY:

A hotels profitability, liquidity, and solvency must be analysed through the comparative financial statement analysis. The two approaches to financial statement analysis that are most frequently employed are predictive analysis and common size statement. These techniques involve computations and comparing the findings to past company data, rivals, or processor averages in order to assess the relative strength and performance of the business.

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY:

1. Researching the Royal Oak overall financial performance.
2. To understand how the Royal Oak analyses financial statements.
3. To be aware of how the organization uses management principles.
4. To understand the issues faced by Royal Oak.
5. To highlight significant discoveries and offer insightful advice for improvement of the hotel performance.

CONCLUSION

The Royal Oak Hotels in Bhatkal, is a 3-star hotel with 4-star amenities. The Royal Oak is committed to giving the traveler on a tight budget a top-notch hotel experience. We constantly pursued unfailing attention to detail, concern for convenience and comfort, and care for every aspect of the guest experience. The unit is running under healthy profit and has good reputation in an around Bhatkal and it also has a good opportunity for growth.

The financial position of the hotel is sound however it has room for improvement in the financial management. The hotels overall management is excellent. The hospitality industry contributes 7.5% to the GDP of India. ROYAL OAK gives employment opportunities to the locals and improves the employment opportunities in BHATKAL.
