Report on Lecture on "Conservation of Life-sustaining Water"

Date: 04-03-2019, Monday

Venue: Govt. Higher Primary School, Gandhi Nagar, Heble, Bhatkal

Time: 4:30 pm

Under the auspices of the NSS unit of our college, a lecture was organized on the crucial topic of "Conservation of Life-sustaining Water". The event took place at the Govt. Higher Primary School in Gandhi Nagar, Heble, Bhatkal. The lecture was conducted by Prof. Parashuram Mukari, a distinguished lecturer in Kannada, known for his expertise in environmental issues.

The event was well-attended, with a total of 56 NSS volunteers from our college and 15 staff members present. Notably, several members of the local community from Heble village also participated enthusiastically.

The lecture commenced at 4:30 pm and began with an introduction by Prof. Manjunath Prabhu, the NSS Officer of our college, who emphasized the importance of water conservation in today's world. He highlighted the role of NSS in promoting community awareness and action towards sustainable practices.

Prof. Parashuram Mukari then took the stage and delivered an insightful lecture on various aspects of water conservation. He covered topics such as the importance of preserving water resources, methods to prevent water wastage, and the impact of human activities on local water bodies. His talk was enriched with examples and statistics, making it both informative and engaging for the audience.

As a special guest, Mr. Madev N. Naik, a respected member of the Gram Panchayat in Heble, shared practical initiatives taken by the local community to conserve water. His contribution provided a valuable perspective on how grassroots efforts can make a significant difference in water conservation efforts.

The session concluded with a lively interactive session where participants asked questions and shared their own experiences and ideas on water conservation. Prof. Mukari and Mr. Naik provided further insights and practical tips, encouraging everyone present to take proactive steps in their daily lives to conserve water.

Overall, the lecture by Prof. Parashuram Mukari on "Conservation of Life-sustaining Water" was a resounding success. It not only enhanced awareness among NSS volunteers and staff members but also fostered a sense of community involvement and
